

As you may know, The Collinsville Press has been providing professional coverage of Avon High, Canton High and Farmington Valley athletics since 2009. We chronicle and share the achievements of student athletes through our stories and photography. There have been plenty of thrilling championship victories, white knuckle defeats and inspirational stories.

We would be pleased to partner with you and increase awareness of your company, your product and the services you provide to the area. You will also be supporting a local company that covers our local athletes but you can reach students, parents and potential donors throughout Avon, Canton, the Farmington Valley and the state.

We have readers from Avon, Canton, Simsbury, Farmington, West Hartford, Granby and towns around Connecticut and beyond. We're averaging more than 22,000 page views per month.

There are many options.

- We can provide ads for you that promote your business, a fundraising event or simply praise a team or individual for an accomplishment. We will work with you with an ad to suit your needs.
- You could simply make a much-appreciated donation.
